The Arbor Program

Wesley strives to meet the individual needs of residents through the development and regular review of specialized care plans by our Arbor nurse manager in collaboration with residents and their families. Once services and care needs are determined, a point value* is assigned to each service based on the time needed, the level of staff involvement and the acuity of task required to perform the service. This personalization of services ensures that residents receive and pay for the right amount of support.

Examples of Care Plans

A resident who needs minimal observation, some assistance with self-care activities, and assistance with medication management might have a minimal monthly care fee equal to 28 points or $2,038.40.	A resident who needs full assistance with all basic activities of daily living, including help with showering and bathroom breaks; assistance with 10 or more medications daily; and communication with medical providers have a monthly care fee could equal to 80 points or $5,824.	An advance care plan for a resident may involve full assistance with all activities of daily living, medication and incontinence management, significant staff intervention for behaviors, and frequent safety checks. This monthly care fee could equal 115 points or $8,372.

For second person, add $900 per month plus personal care plan. *1 point equals $72.80.
